Following the success of LeapBuilders®, the first-ever line of smart building block introduced in Singapore last year, LeapFrog Singapore introduces more construction toys; injecting the category with innovation and technology, this June holiday.

LeapBuilders lets kids use interactive building blocks to combine classic block play with engaging sounds and fun, curriculum-based learning content. This exciting new play experience is designed to facilitate creative learning while encouraging children's problem solving and fine motor skills. The complete line of LeapBuilders is available for at Robinsons, Toys R Us, Kiddy Palace.

LeapBuilders sets feature an electronic Smart Star™ cube and double-sided learning blocks. When a learning block is inserted into the interactive Smart Star, it responds with fun sounds, educational songs and learning content to create a uniquely engaging play experience. Kids can also use blocks from other LeapBuilders sets to unlock additional responses.

LeapBuilders are recommended for ages 18+ months.
